

The European Day Of Languages is a day which can reunite people across the World and in the Europe because they talk the same language.

This day was created on the 26th September, in 2001 by the Council of Europe and it has been celebrated every year since 2001.

The EDL (European Day of Languages) is to alert people of the importance of learning foreign languages.

By Alexandre MAHERAUT and Marius JAHOUEL